Version Date: 2024/03/04

1. Overview

The Global Anti-Fraud Alliance is dedicated to helping individuals worldwide recover assets lost due to "financial fraud." By accessing our website and using our services, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to the following disclaimer. This disclaimer is designed to clearly outline the responsibilities and obligations of both parties, ensuring you are fully informed and protected while using our services.

2. Terms and Conditions of Service

Our services are focused on assisting clients in recovering virtual assets. Once we successfully recover assets on your behalf, the recovered funds will be securely stored in a dedicated virtual currency wallet. After providing you with the wallet's private key, all related backup records of the private key will be permanently destroyed within 60 minutes. We strongly advise you to immediately and securely store the private key upon receipt, as it is the sole credential for accessing your assets. Please note that we are not liable for any loss resulting from the mismanagement, loss, or disclosure of the private key.

3. Service Fees

Our services operate on a "no recovery, no fee" basis, meaning we do not charge any fees until we have successfully recovered your lost funds. However, once the funds have been recovered, we will charge a service fee of 10% of the total recovered amount. To ensure transparency and fairness, this 10% fee must be paid separately and cannot be deducted from the recovered funds. We require clients to pay this fee within the specified time frame after receiving the recovered funds. Failure to do so may affect the continuation of services and legal rights.

4. Limitation of Liability

While we strive to assist clients in recovering their losses to the greatest extent possible, due to the complexity and unpredictability of each case, we cannot guarantee the total amount or timing of recovered funds. We shall not be held liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages, including but not limited to loss of profits, business interruption, or data loss, that may result from using our services. Clients assume all potential risks associated with using our services.

5. Confidentiality and Data Protection

We strictly comply with all applicable privacy and data protection laws to ensure that your personal and transaction information is protected to the highest degree. We commit to not disclosing your information to any third party, except as required by law or with your explicit consent. We also expect clients to provide accurate, complete, and lawful information when using our services to enable us to deliver the best possible service.

6. Legal Compliance and Jurisdiction

This disclaimer and its terms are governed by and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Washington, specifically under the Washington Consumer Protection Act (RCW 19.86) and the Washington Virtual Currency Law (Chapter 19.230 RCW). Any disputes arising out of or related to this disclaimer or our services shall be submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts located in King County, Washington. By using our services, you expressly agree to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of these courts.

7. Changes to the Disclaimer

We reserve the right to update or modify this disclaimer at any time based on business needs. Any changes will be immediately posted on our website and will take effect upon posting. We recommend that you review this disclaimer periodically to stay informed of the latest terms. Continued use of our services constitutes your acceptance of the revised disclaimer.
